

Entertainment Weekly

EXCLUSIVE!

Michael Moore
Speaks
Out

A Candid
Interview
With
The Most Dangerous
Man
In Movies

www.ew.com (AOL Keyword: EW)

Series debut

10-11PM

Dr. 90210 (E!, TV-14) "Keep this in mind—I've seen 10,000 undressed women," says Robert Rey. Swingin' single? Peeping Tom? Nope, plastic surgeon. E!'s new docu reality series goes under the surface to profile a man who perfects the surface for a living. Dr. Rey (above) turns out to be a man obsessed with beauty, in relation either to his patients (including a man looking to rid himself of bags under the eyes and a woman who has already suffered through three botched breast jobs) or to himself (he's gone under the knife as well). But even more disturbing than all the plastic surgery is a glimpse of Rey's life at home, what little of it exists. Working 16 hours a day six days a week is one thing; choosing to exercise rather than help your pregnant wife watch your child is another. (He also leaves his daughter's birthday party to "make a couple of phone calls.") And the award for Father of the Year goes to... B-