DESPERATE HOUSEWIVES

It's TV's newest guilty pleasure!

Just how desperate could these ladies be? Oh, you'll see! Here are three of the first episode's craziest moments:

- Bree (Marcia Cross) poisons her allergic husband's salad with nuts (accidentally?) after he asks her for a divorce!
- After seducing her teenage gardener all day, Gabrielle (Eva Longoria) has to mow the lawn herself at night — wearing a ball gown — before her hubby gets home!
- Single mom Susan (Teri Hatcher) sets a fire to stop the town floozy from hooking up with the new hunk on the block!

Sunday, October 3, ABC, 9 pm ET

Q&A with William Shatner

Leave it to Captain Kirk to boldly go where no man has gone before — the Priceline poet's got a new TV series (Boston Legal, Sunday, October 3, ABC, 10 pm ET) and a new pop music album, Has Been.

How did you corral such great collaborators for your new album?
Several artists who appear on Has Been were affected by my ['60s spoken-word] album The Transformed Man, including Joe Jackson and Ben Folds. Brad Paisley and I are buddies. I did a video for him and he wrote me a song.

What made you come back to series television?
Creator David E. Kelley — who's a genius. And James Spader is one of the great guys of our time. To be connected with that kind of talent is so delirious, I couldn't resist!

James Doohan (Star Trek's Scotty) is suffering from Alzheimer's. How has this impacted you?
It's sad and gives you a sense of your own mortality. Where's the hammer going to hit next? Maybe that's why I'm doing all of this. I sense the closing in of time and want to get things done.
