REY'S ANATOMY

Robert bought the four-level, seven-bedroom, 10-bathroom house from Raquel Welch. It has three kitchens and an elevator. "There's never been a day that we haven't had workmen here!" laughs Robert.

"The moment I laid eyes on Hayley I was short of breath — I couldn't breathe! We're a classic Hollywood story."

Living the Dream...

It's a long way from the slums of Brazil to Beverly Hills, but TV's Dr. Robert Rey has made the transition. At the age of 12, he dreamed of attending Harvard University, becoming a plastic surgeon, living in a white house and having a white dog. He's achieved it all, and then some! The star of the E!

channel's plastic surgery series, Dr. 90210, married Hayley seven years ago; they have two children: Sydney, 6, and 2-year-old Robby. Robert told OK!, "I lived in a very poor Brazilian neighborhood, but I knew that someday I would be a plastic surgeon. Talent helps, but it's mostly effort and a dream."

"People in Brazil are happy and very family-oriented. My country never did anything to shape world direction. We invented a few things, though: thong underwear, the Brazilian butt lift, the [Brazilian] bikini wax, and we wrote the book on sexiness. We invented sexy!"

"I have a black belt in tae kwon do and also practice Brazilian jiu-jitsu, which is very sexy and insanely sensual. Leave it to the Brazilians to make violence sexy!"

Hayley smiles: "We had one date, and I unloaded on him about how awful men were. For some reason, a week later, he asked me out again. Robert is the sweetest, kindest man I've ever met."
